MOTION LEADERSHIP: THE SKINNY ON BECOMING CHANGE SAVVY
MICHAEL FULLAN

This series of brand new workshops introduces the skinny on how leaders can set change in motion. Leaders who know the skinny move people to achieve amazing results. Michael Fullan illustrates the dynamics of change with examples that show individuals, institutions and whole systems moving forward. Shifting between theory and practice, Michael takes participants on a learning roller coaster that helps them to:

- Understand and move with change
- Mobilise peers to collaborate
- Specialise in capacity building
- Promote learning as the work
- Drive forward with transparency
- Earn trust through integrity
- Enable others to become motion leaders

The workshops also launch Motion Leadership the Movie (MLM). This is an exciting programme of online learning. MLM uses the best multi-media techniques to interact with users, deepen their learning and shift school improvement into a higher gear.

Michael Fullan is one of the most influential international authorities on change. He is engaged in professional learning, consulting and evaluating system-wide change in many countries. His ideas about change are used around the globe.

Michael is a world-class presenter. Through his workshops, he combines new insights with participants' own experiences of change. This powerful technique gets people moving. The key objectives are for participants to:

- Expand their knowledge of the change process
- Learn practical strategies for successful improvement
- Be inspired to apply the ideas to their own change initiatives

There is an excellent balance between thought-provoking presentation and co-operative learning activities that exploit different learning styles. The pace of learning is brisk. All participants will receive a copy of Michael's book Motion Leadership to help them to reflect on the ideas and extend their learning, or share it with others, later.
